

A word from "Die Aksie"

As the students from the Inscape design foundation class of 2010, we have gotten to know one another as friends rather than colleagues. We are a spirited and motivated bunch who is not afraid of criticism or judgement; and here is how we are determined to prove it: we stand together through thick and thin and we let our Inscape spirit echo in our actions.

We have decided to get involved in as many projects as we can this year and advertise our willingness to help, entertain or enlighten. Our very first idea was to brighten up Thursdays with a dress up theme every week, for example hippy, gothic, punk rock etc. This has gotten many laughs and reactions which, essentially, is our goal.

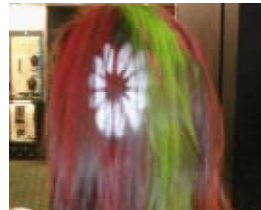

Our second involvement was the CANSA shaveathon. Our students wore pink and white and stood at the robot on Atterbury and Mackenzie Street with cardboard signs asking for donations for our cause. The reactions that we received from the motorists were astounding; we made R 1054,95 in about an hour and a half! Although we looked rather silly, we were very proud to have devoted only a little time and received a great award. The next morning we took the money to the CANSA representatives at Brooklyn Mall and had our heads sprayed neon rainbow colours. Their gratitude and the indescribable feeling that we got from giving has convinced us to carry on doing charity projects such as these.

We want to encourage the other classes to join us in some of these projects and would appreciate any help or advice. We wish everybody a great year and we hope that you will have as much fun as we do at Inscape.

Yours truly

Die Aksie (Design Foundation Pretoria)

Exhibition Evening in CTN

Final year students at the Cape Town campus hosted an exhibition of their best work earlier this year.

Parents, the public in general and Industry Professionals were invited to attend. The evening was a huge success with the students gaining a lot of industry exposure as well as being able to show off to their parents who were equally proud of their achievements.

THE WRITING IS ON THE WALL

Some of the Cape Town design students busy painting the colourful info wall at reception

3rd year interior design students Lara and Carla came up with the idea to create an info wall on which students can comment with chalk.

The design included the 3 inscape circles overlapping each other with swirls above and below. The colours are red and orange glossy paint, together with black board paint. Both groups of design students undertook the job of painting the wall.

The wall is passed every day when on the way to class and has drawn a lot of attention. Cool... being the favourite saying. Students now let their inner graffiti artist free. And the information they need in order to create a flow of communication between the college and students is also "cool"!
